Debate Paper

10 February 2014

- What underlying issues are being debated in the readings?
 - The political and social debate is over how much gun control is appropriate. (Gun Control: An Overview)
 - The point of view of social science is how efficient is gun control in reducing violent crimes? (Gun Control: An Overview)
 - The ethical point of view is about “the right to bear arms against the protection of citizens and prevention of crime.” (Gun Control: An Overview)
 - The legal question is, “how the Second Amendment to the US Constitution should be interpreted,” and whether or not the right to bear arms extends to private citizens or “well-regulated militias.” (Gun Control: An Overview)
 - There is also the legal issue of “whether more legislation is needed, or whether better enforcement of current legislation is required.” (Gun Control: An Overview)

- According to supporters of stricter gun control, what are some possible advantages in favor of supporting the issue?
 - Supporters of stricter gun control are The Brady Venter to Prevent Gun Violence (Gun Violence: An Overview)
 - Advantages of stricter gun control: “increase of regulation could significantly reduce both the number and the scale of gun-related violent crimes,” (Counterpoint: Gun Control Saves Lives), “gun violence strains the US and economy and health system” (Gun Control: An Overview), less accidental shootings, suicides, and criminal activity, and those who are deemed mentally unfit would not be able to purchase a gun.

- According to those in opposition, what are some possible disadvantages to stricter gun control laws?
 - Those in opposition are the NRA who is against most gun legislation.
 - Disadvantages of stricter gun control laws: “requiring better safety controls on firearms places unfair burdens on manufacturers,” (Gun Control: An Overview), does gun control lower the overall rate of violence?, “stricter gun control laws have done nothing to prevent gun violence,” (Gun Control: An Overview), “the Second Amendment protects the rights of individuals to bear arms” (Gun Control: An Overview), and gun control “take(s) away rights granted by the Constitution.” (Point: Controlling Gun Violence is More Important than Controlling Guns)
